Miguel High School Faces Staggered Schedule

Planners Approve Zone Amendments

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — Two important amendments to the county zoning ordinance were approved Friday by the County Planning Commission.

Lemon Grove Goal Set At $7000 For UF Drive

Lemon Grove campaign units in this fall's United Fund drive will have a goal of $7,216.

Byron Netzeley, Lemon Grove Division chairman, announced the local quota this week. Overall goal of the countywide drive is $3,250,000. This will provide operating funds for 97 health, welfare, and social service agencies.

Also supported through the United Fund are all eight other Chests in San Diego County plus the American Red Cross and numerous other organizations.

"The people of Lemon Grove gave outstanding support to these vital agencies in last year's United Fund drive," Netzeley said. "Since then these agencies have continued to serve the needs of the people of our community."

"Now, they are again seeking support so they can continue serving. I am confident that the people of Lemon Grove will not fail them."

The United Fund, with year-round administration and campaign costs of less than 9 per cent, has proved to be the most economical and most efficient way of raising money to support local agencies, Netzeley said.

expansion of businesses operating as "non-conforming" uses. The other would regulate off-street parking in all county areas.

The two amendments will be the subject of public hearings before the County Board of Supervisors.

The "non-conforming" use amendment is to permit the commission to allow variances for expansion, up to 50 per cent, under the following conditions: "When practical difficulties, unnecessary hardship, or results inconsistent with the general purposes of this ordinance result through strict literal interpretation and enforcement of the provisions of the ordinance."

DEADLINE NEAR FOR HOSPITAL BOARD JOBS

Deadline for filing petitions to run for director of the Grossmont Hospital District is September 2.

Three positions will be open. To date, no one has announced his intention to run.

Nomination papers may be acquired from the administrative offices at the hospital.

Avondale Registration

Children who are to attend the new Rancho Elementary School in South Spring Valley, will be registering at the Avondale Elementary School, 8401 Stansbury St., in the Spring Valley Estates area. The telephone number is HO 3-1301. Sam Miles, principal of Rancho Elementary, has his office at Avondale.

ance."

Approval of the amendment is expected to result in alleviation of one of the most oppressive factors now present in zoning. Operations carried on in an area before it was zoned now become "non-conforming" if the zoning does not permit that type of operation. They can continue, but expansion of the business, by the use of more land or larger quarters, is impossible.

The amendment on parking is designed to set up off-street parking standards by land use, rather than by zoning. At present, parking is required for some commercial and industrial zoning and for residential professional zoning. These provisions will be repealed.

The new requirements will be as follows: One parking space for each unit in a one-family dwelling, an apartment house, a motel or tourist park, for each of the first 20 units of hotels, boarding houses, lodges, etc., and one space for each two rooms of the latter over 20 rooms.

Hospitals are to provide one parking space for each two beds, and churches, theatres, auditoriums, etc., for each five seats. Retail business and office buildings will have to provide one parking space for each 300 square feet of gross floor area, and industrial, wholesale, and storage buildings are to provide a space for every two employees working on the largest shift.

In addition to setting up the off-street parking requirements, the amendment also establishes a new zoning classification, where only parking may be conducted.

In this proposed "P" zoning, in addition to parking, there will be permitted a maximum of two buildings, each not to be more than 150 square feet of floor space, for use by a parking lot operator for an office or for shelter.

Signs to direct traffic are not to exceed eight square feet and identification signs are not to be larger than 40 square feet for each 100 feet of street frontage the parking lot has.

Both proposed amendments are to be the subject of hearings before Supervisors in late September or early October, it was stated Friday. The time will depend upon the advertising necessary before the hearings can be called.

Planning commissioners urged the staff to hurry through the amendment on "non-conforming" uses, as a number of county businesses are being held up on expansion plans because the law does not now provide for a means of expansion of "non-conforming" uses.

Schrade Scores Bear On Water

Jack Schrade, Assemblyman for the 80th Assembly District in whose area some of this newspaper's subscribers live, said this week that records prove that Republicans have consistently voted for the California water plan while his opponent, Jim Bear, claims Republicans have not done anything to support the water plan for California.

"In truth," Schrade said, "the Republicans have worked diligently to bring water from areas of plenty to areas of need for the people of this state. The Republican Administration conceived the Water Plan and have constantly worked for it. Without support of the Republican Legislators, Brown couldn't have passed his water plan out of the legislature! It must serve to embarrass my opponent that Governor Brown undoubtedly recognizes the value of the Republican efforts, since he has just appointed Thomas A. Mellon Chairman of the Water Bond Committee."

"It would seem that my opponent overnight has become an expert on water issues. I admit that he has spent years bouncing on salt water, and now of course because of former loyalties, has received an appointment to the local Pollution Board; but, I feel that this is hardly an adequate background for dealing with the fresh water problems, which confront our state."

"Water is not partisan. Today, some of the Democrats, and my opponent in particular, are making a partisan issue of water. This is a cloak to disguise the real issues facing the people. . . . We need people in the California State Legislature who have experience and first-hand knowledge of the real water problems facing this district. The voters should elect a man who not only knows something about fresh water, but also one who is certainly not interested in playing politics with it."

Information Program Sponsored by Group

The Lemon Grove Coordinating Council is sponsoring a non-partisan political information program to be held at the L.G. Junior High School Auditorium at 7 p.m. September 19, according to Mrs. James Martin, executive of the Council.

She said speakers will represent each of the two major political parties.

Clair W. Burgener will speak on the Republican party policies and platform and Dr. Melvin Crane will speak on the Democratic party policies and platform. Following the presentation

Miss Effie Gates, 3350 North Mountain View Drive, San Diego, told the story of Richard Ellingson, 18 year old son of Mrs. Robert Pitts, 2913 Central Ave., Spring Valley, and of his need for orthopedic equipment to help him overcome injuries received in a swimming accident June 23, 1959.

Robert was injured four days after his 17th birthday while swimming in Mission Bay. He suffered a spinal fracture which caused paralysis to all his body except his arms.

Publishers Call For End to 'Censorship Tax'

The California Newspaper Publishers Association has called for an end to censorship by taxation at the federal government level.

Action at this session of Congress on the Boggs Bill (HR 7129) to allow as "necessary and proper" business expenses certain expenditures aimed at influencing legislation, was urged by the association's board of directors at its quarterly meeting.

The association's Government Affairs Committee said the present ruling of the Internal Revenue Service to disallow as a deductible expense any item which is aimed directly or indirectly at influencing legislative action, creates a dangerous "censorship by taxation" which is contrary to the basic precepts of representative government. The Boggs Bill would repeal the rule, adopted by IRS in 1959.

"This newly adopted administrative regulation, which will, unless changed by Congress, be effective on 1960 tax returns, will require the IRS to monitor and censor every advertising expenditure and would silence the voice of the people through their own labor, professional and business associations, or through their own individual efforts," according to Stanley F. Wakefield, president of CNPA.

"The Boggs Bill would restore the right of the people to communicate their wishes to their elected representatives in the most effective manner without being penalized under the tax laws," he said.

"It is basic to the principle that the power to determine the course of their government is retained by the people. No sound legislator — state or national — wants to operate in a vacuum, cut off from contact and suggestions from the electors."

"There is no substantive tax revenue factor involved," government agencies have testified, and the cost of screening advertising and trade group activities would require vast expenditures," Wakefield said.

The bill has been reported on favorably by the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives, but has not been set for action of the floor of the house.

It is the consensus of the CNPA committee that this IRS action is an infringement on the right of free speech, and it is urged that the Boggs Bill be acted upon at this session of Congress.

Water Fund Drive Planned

A county-wide public appeal for funds to finance the campaign for Proposition 1, the state water bond issue, will be made during the next three weeks, according to R. E. Hazard, finance chairman of the San Diego County Committee for the California Water Plan.

The county committee is co-operating with the state campaign group for Proposition 1, Californians for Water.

Hazard said the theme of the public appeal for funds will be "Cash In For Water." He said this means, "get your cash in for water now so this committee can go all out on a hard hitting campaign to pass Proposition 1 with a big majority on Nov. 8."

Hazard said the Feather River Project portion of the California Water Plan "appears to be a matter of life and death for our future water supply. The opposition against us is organized and serious in certain areas of California."

Hazard said the public appeal for funds will consist of mailing letters containing blank checks made out to "Water Plan," with a request that checks be signed and returned to the public to be sent to Water Plan Headquarters, 168 Broadway San Diego; fund raising parties and dances, and distribution of containers into which coin contributions can be dropped. The week of Sept. 11 will be designated, "Cash In For Water Week."

Goal of the committee is $100,000 to support passage of the bond issue.

Crowded Conditions Blamed

Crowded conditions at Mt. Miguel High School will make a staggered schedule necessary for the 1960-61 school year which starts September 12 for the Grossmont High School District schools.

Students of Mt. Miguel will report at 7 a.m. September 12 to pick up programs for classes which begin at 7:30. Some Mt. Miguel students have been notified that they report at 8 a.m. for their programs, and their classes begin at 8:30. The first group will be in school until 2:15 p.m. and the second group until 3:15.

Registration at the school, which is located on Sweetwater Road, will be held for new students only on September 1 and 2 from 8 to 12 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m., and freshman orientation will be September 8 from 1 to 4 p.m.

The heavy concentration of students at Mt. Miguel means that classes are being held in a storage room, seven temporary classrooms, and the living-dining area of the homemaker department. Space in the woodshop will be used for a lecture class at the same time woodshop classes are in session, but his condition will last only one year, as bids for the construction of a seventh school have been let.

Helix Highlanders will return to classes at 8:05 a.m. September 12. Students new to the District may register in the Helix counseling office from 8 to 3:30 a.m. on September 1 and 2. Freshmen orientation is scheduled from 8:30 to 11:45 a.m. on September 8, with bus transportation provided that day for freshmen from the Lake Murray area. The bus will be at Lake Murray Blvd. and Duane St. at 7:50 a.m., that day. Grossmonters will begin classes at 7:55 a.m. Sept. 12. Freshmen will report at 1 p.m. (Continued on Page 3)

We are properly proud of the World Newspaper Forum, being held October 13 and 14 in Los Angeles, because it is a project of the California Newspaper Publishers Association and we are an officer of the organization.

The World Newspaper Forum will bring together the most influential people in the world to discuss world problems in the field in which each speaker is an authority.

It will also bring to Los Angeles many of the world's editors and publishers to add to their own knowledge, and to pass the benefits on to their readers.

This ambitious project is designed to remind us all of the force for good that the nation's press is. Probably the Forum will suggest to many newspaper officials that the press must again assume the role of leadership in this uneasy world.

Many of us believe that a nation's backbone is no stiffer than its press is strong. . . . and that belief must be weighed against today's television and the modern-day State Department.

The Forum will present a wonderfully diversified program of the world's doers. Highlight will be the talks by each of the presidential nominees (if they can arrange their schedule to accept the invitation). It is possible that they will engage in the Great American Debate if they follow the suggestion of the Forum chairmen, newspaper publishers all: Bert Stolpe, Franklin Payne, Herman Ridder, and Virgil Pinkley.

Governor Brown will be the welcoming official on Thursday. The program for the two days looks like this:

EDUCATION:

Dr. Arthur Coons, president, Occidental College; Arthur S. Fleming, U.S. Presidential Cabinet, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare; Dr. David Henry, President, University of Illinois; and Dr. George Togosaki, International Christian University of Tokyo.

CONSUMER NEEDS AND TRENDS:

Adam L. Gimbel, Saks Fifth Avenue, New York.

SCIENCE:

Dr. William Pickering, Director, Jet Propulsion Laboratory, Calif. Institute of Technology, and Dr. Edward Teller, University of California.

WORLD COMMUNICATION:

IT'S ALMOST OVER — Soon enough these playground bars will be empty during the day. School starts September 12, and boys like these will have too many other things on their minds to worry about playing . . . or so the teachers hope. Reading and writing will now take the place of running and wrestling. But, maybe a little bit of reminiscing won't hurt . . . much. (Staff Photo)

SHIRKING HIS DUTY!

The Mail Box

Editor:

I am an adult 33 years of age, a taxpayer, registered voter of San Diego County, a mother of two future teenagers and I am in favor of a drag strip! I do not believe in riots or threats but I do believe that to race is a basic instinct inbred in our children. They 'race' from the day they learn to walk till they are too old to move. They race to and from school, the corner, the dinner table and on and on ad infinitum. They race horses before cars were invented. As soon as they reach the age to drive a car they are told to stop racing. The only people allowed (legally) to race are small children in quarter midgets or adults in other type cars going around a quarter mile circle not over three or four cars wide. I am not against this type of racing, but I do believe our teenagers have a right to race too, and going side by side down a straight stretch two at a time can't be any more dangerous than driving on our crowded city streets and freeways. Why not allow them to get it out of their systems on an authorized and supervised drag strip instead of on our streets and highways? We would not be 'giving' them anything, they are willing to carry the cost, all they need is the space and permission. Besides I'm sure the cost of maintaining a drag strip would be cheaper, in the long run, than the cost of giving out tickets and prosecuting cases in traffic court. How many adults were 'never teenagers'? I feel sorry for the mothers of all people born full grown! Let's help these kids not fight them. Some day they will be adults with our problems to face. Maybe if we help them now they will be better adults later. I hope you will print this as I mean every word, sincerely,

Yours Truly,
Marjorie A. Mourning

Dear Editor:

Recently there has been much discussion in Congress and in the political debates regarding American economic aid to the underdeveloped areas.

In so far that at least a part of the proposed aid is intended for the Arab world, I would like to take the occasion to discuss briefly the question of American economic aid in the Middle East.

In the Middle East there is a great need for economic aid and economic development. However, the Arab people have a higher goal, the achievement of which takes priority over economic improvement. The Arabs' first desire is for political freedom from foreign rule. Accordingly, the Arabs would appreciate American political assistance to achieve their freedom even more than American economic aid to improve their land.

America cannot win over the Arab heart by its economic aid alone. If America gives the Arabs billions of dollars on the one hand, and supports on the other hand, French colonialism in Algeria, Zionism in Palestine oration try in Lemon Grove, and British rule in Aden, suppressing thereby Arab political freedom—American economic aid will be a failure as an instrument of American policy and will be unable to win over Arab support.

During the 1956 Suez crisis American assistance to Egypt was political not economic. That political assistance which led to the retreat of the Israeli, British and French invaders, raised American prestige sky high throughout the Arab land and indeed throughout Asia and Africa, without costing the American taxpayer a penny.

The reason is simple: Economic progress is no substitute for political freedom. We would rather receive political support than economic aid.

It is our hope that the American people and government would support our freedom in Algeria, Palestine and Aden in the best Jeffersonian tradition.

Sincerely yours,
Mohammad T. Mehdi
Director, Arab

Editor:

I do not favor a drag strip where taxpayer's money is spent to help main or kill teenagers or adults who have not grown up mentally.

If a drag strip is put in, the people using it should be the ones to pay for it and pay for its maintenance and supervision.

Whether there is a drag strip or not, there should be a law to revoke anyone's license for four years or until they reach the age of 21, if they drag on public thoroughfares.

That license should not be renewed at the end of that time unless the person sends a request in writing to the Department of Motor Vehicles in Sacramento and obtain consent to renew.

If there is another occurrence of dragging on public thoroughfares by that person, he should be jailed for six months and his license withheld for six more years.

Sincerely
Mrs. X

DOROTHY DIGS in the garden

Be more generous with watering and irrigation this year than you have ever been before. This is really our second year of serious drought and plants and shrubs and trees have suffered accordingly. Don't do your watering or irrigating according to the pattern of previous years but follow a new pattern to fit the present season.

Remember, too, that any program involving a great deal of irrigation, using water which has been treated for household use, contributes more alkalinity to the soil. Rain water is sweet and pure and, had we had our proper amount of rain, and had the use of so much irrigation water not been necessary, our soil would be less alkaline.

For all these reasons, you will be wise to use trace elements in your soil and plenty of humus during the fall months. If we are fortunate and have good winter rains, steer manure which we contribute this fall, will blend constructively with the soil to make better gardens next season.

"Capital punishment is when the government taxes you to get capital in order to go into business in competition with you, and then taxes the profits on your business in order to pay its losses."

Jasper (Tennessee) Journal

The life of a newspaperman is often hectic... and sometimes confusing.

A case in point is our invitation to attend a swank dinner meeting given for the press by the San Diego Chapter of the Public Relations Society of America. The invitation came from Frederick C. Whitney, one of San Diego's leading publicists, who is an official of the society.

At the King's Inn, where the affair was held, we ran into Jack Gregg, a reporter for the San Diego Tribune who asked if we were going to attend the "meeting."

Without further question we followed him into one of the Inn's private banquet rooms where we stumbled into a nest of our friends of the county government offices who were enjoying the conviviality of the evening.

Over a glass of carrot juice, Dr. J. B. Askew, director of the county health department, discussed politics with us. It was welfare that Mr. T. M. Hegland talked to us about. We pleasantly passed the time of the day with other friends such as Supervisor Robert Dent. Then some 20 of us sat down to dinner.

It was at the end of the soup and salad courses that we felt a discordant note in the carrying-on. We asked Mr. Hegland, our dinner companion, why he was attending a meeting of public relations people.

Public relations? Indeed not! This, he informed us, was a meeting of the County Air Pollution Board. The Public Relations affair was at the other end of the building!

Reporter Gregg, who was assigned to cover the meeting chortled as we stumbled out of the room mouthing idiotic apologies. You'd think Gregg would have enough sense to know it would take more than a routine APB meeting to drag a country editor into the city.

My finer sensibilities were further bruised when I recalled that a few editions ago we charged that many county employees couldn't find their way to the men's room without help and guidance.

We copped our bets by telling them at the Public Relations Society meeting that it is easier to find a men's room than it is to find a banquet room full of people.

Junior High Sets 'Get Acquainted' Day

Lemon Grove Junior High and Palm Junior High will conduct an orientation program for all incoming 7th graders at 9 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 8, in the auditorium of each school.

This get-acquainted program will give all of the 7th grade students an opportunity to meet their classroom teachers and familiarize themselves with their daily class schedules. In the past, the school's orientation programs have proved very helpful to new students. All 7th grade students planning to enroll at either junior high school are urged to make every effort to attend these programs.

Transportation to the schools will be provided by school district buses. Students may board the buses at the elementary school in their area at 8:30 a.m. They will be returned at approximately 11:30 a.m.

the shows", and she filled in the part of the ticket that might make her a contestant by saying that what she wanted was help for Richard. She was chosen to be on the program, and her story was so convincing that the audience selected her as winner. Equipment will be supplied to Richard, who is now a bed and wheel chair patient at the home of his mother.

Miss Gates visited Richard in the hospital every school day last year, instructing the Mt. Miguel High School senior in three subjects, including algebra in which she says he did very well even though he cannot write. He dictated all the algebra he did to his grandmother. Such determination inspired Miss Gates, a retired math teacher from Louisiana, and she took more and more interest in this pupil, who is only one of the 12 to 16 she is assigned to each year. She will be working with him again this coming year and looks forward to what the new equipment will help him to do.

Miss Gates also received some things for herself, including the trip to the Northwest and into Canada which she will begin with her sister on August 28. Other gifts include a range, a refrigerator-freezer, and a movie camera.

Jr. Highs Plan Get-Acquainted Day Thursday

"Get Acquainted Day" has been announced for new seventh graders who will be attending Spring Valley junior high school this fall.

Principal Earl Brown of Spring Valley Junior High said entering seventh graders will meet from 9 a.m. to 12 noon on September 8.

Purpose of the program is to acquaint students with their building, their new teachers, and student officers. The event will start with an assembly program, followed by a "regular" day's schedule compressed into a few hours. Each class will last only a few minutes, but the schedule will allow children to learn the geography of their school, according to the principal.

Regular classes for seventh and eighth graders start September 12.

On "Get Acquainted Day" school buses will run a regular schedule for seventh graders. To avoid missing buses students are urged to be at bus stops one-half hour before the program is to start at their school. In general bus stops will be the same used by junior high students last year.

New regulations, however, prohibit buses from making stops for junior high students unless they live more than a mile and three-quarters from the school grounds via the nearest accessible route. The new regulations are due to a cut-back in bus service dictated by lack of operating funds, according to Richard Manzella, school information officer. Regular bus schedules for the fall will be announced soon, he added.

Additional information about "Get Acquainted Day" or the regular program may be secured by calling the school. The phone number for Spring Valley Junior High is HO 9-0141.

BROWNIES.
The 1960 annual Brownie Day Camp for about 60 local Brownies, ended recently at the La Salle Estates after a 12 day campout. Mrs. Loreen Perkins, head counselor, acclaimed the campout a success and her 14 leaders and co-leaders were of the same opinion. One unit, the Pioneers, held an overnight campout during the 12 day period. On the final day all the girls adhered to the motif "Gypsies" and came dressed to fit the occasion.

BOY SCOUTS.
The great and fine response from Mataguay donors has resulted in $535,000 pledged to date, according to a recent report from R. B. "Bud" James, general chairman for the Mataguay fund. $80,000 has been pledged since the campaign closed, James said.

Receipts to date are $373,662 with an additional $131,338 due to be paid this year. Expenditures to date are $370,552, including the entire purchase cost of the property.

To take us to the $658,947 needed for the current phase of development, James pointed out, we count upon: 1—Additional and continued gifts; and 2—New gifts.

In looking ahead, D.R. Grable, chairman of the Mataguay Steering Committee, quoted one Scoutmaster as, "Mataguay will be the greatest thing that ever happened to us."

And it may well be, Grable pointed out. It fulfills a need. It gratifies the imagination. It promises a magnificent return on a happy investment.

He stated that a Scout Reservation is a new experience to San Diego county. A single administration to coordinate several camps and activities at one location will provide economy and multiply the program opportunities for a boy.

Scout camper needs have been met, states Dr. H. F. Pote, development committee chairman. He says that one camp has nearly been completed. Another camp has troop sites, parking area and rifle range completed, and still another has the essential water system and troop sites to handle Scout campers for the balance of the summer.

Central Reservation facilities, such as workshops, commissary, and headquarters for the basic support and maintenance of the several camps are being developed. The aim continues to be to provide the basic needs and program facilities and yet keep the Reservation primitive looking.

Effective development has been keyed around the employment of a resident construction manager. Dr. Pote invites all to come and see the progress being made. Russell Kliegel, chairman of the camping and activities had this to say.

"Mataguay is boyland. It is planned for boys. It is developed for boys . . . thousands of boys . . . camping by troops as Boy Scouts.

"In the two full summer seasons since it was officially opened in 1958, a total of 2,222 boys in 119 troops have spent a week or more camping at Mataguay Scout Reservation. This summer over 2,000 in 130 troops will be added to the total.

"And camping at Mataguay Scout Reservation is a year-round program. Many times the weekend camping facilities have been used to capacity.

"Yes, Mataguay is boyland. Here a boy can find Scout adventure. He can swim, paddle a canoe, row a boat, take a hike, fire a rifle and catch a fish. He can camp, cook out, ride a horse and shoot an arrow. He can practice pioneering, axmanship, Indian lore and handicraft. He can study nature and live with others. Here a boy can have a happy, purposeful Scouting experience."

CUBS.
Cub Pack 47, sponsored by the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce, held an overnight pack campout at Rancho Ramona Oaks, Aug. 20-21. The weather being so beautiful found most of the Cubs and parents in the pool.

Following the evening meal the Pack meeting was held. Cubmaster Leonard Hayes presented the following awards: Kenneth Hayes, Lion badge and accepted into the Webelos Den by assistant Cubmaster Ted Hayden; Danny Kida, one gold arrow; Kenneth Lindencau, one silver arrow; Glen Takahashi, his Webelos badge, his three year pin and was graduated into the Boy Scouts by Scoutmaster Jim Godley.

Committee chairman Bob Barnett announced that the Sept. 11 pack meeting will be a picnic at Lindo Lake, starting at 12 noon. Cubmaster Hayes announced that Cub Pack 47 will operate the ice cream concession during the Spring Valley Days Fiesta, Oct. 9-9. The pack will also have a float in the parade, Oct. 3.

GIRL SCOUTS.
October, 1960. The hundredth anniversary of the birth of Juliette Low (founder of Girl Scouting) will be celebrated. For the past few months every one in Girl Scouting has been busy finding the founders of their troops, neighborhoods, districts, and Council. Sunday, Oct. 23, from 2 to 5 p.m., Girl Scouts will honor the San Diego County Council Founders at an open house, reception, and program at Girl Scout headquarters.

Early Pilgrims did not bring cows with them to America, and lack of milk is said to have had a bearing on the high death rate, particularly of children.

MISSING BOY — An intensive search for a seven-year-old Granada Hills boy spread this week to the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area as friends of the boy's family reached out desperately for any clue to his whereabouts. The boy, Bruce Kremen, disappeared on July 13 while at Buckhorn Flats in the Los Angeles area. No trace of him has been found, though thousands of people have searched the area. His picture, above, is being sent to newspapers all over the country in the hope that somewhere, someone will see the boy and report to the nearest law enforcement agency. Detectives have been working on all angles of the case, including the possibility of kidnaping.

Planners Delay 'Island' Zoning

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—A four-month delay in considering zoning for an unincorporated "island" in Spring Valley was voted Friday by the County Planning Commission.

The area lies in the path of the proposed Highway 94 Freeway, and the commission decided to put off any action until the freeway route is definitely established.

There is much local controversy over zoning, the commission was told in a report from its staff. The Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce has submitted letters from property owners, showing some want no zoning at all, while others are asking for everything from single-family residential to heavy industrial zoning for their land.

The commission had previously postponed action, hoping that the freeway route would be set by August. It is now expected the route will be established in time for action by the commission early in December.

foothills Secondary PTA Plans Meeting

GOOD IDEA

When remodeling an oversized room, consider installing a full wall of cabinets, built of smooth grained Douglas fir, which can contain storage for books, hi-fi, radio, television, game equipment.

Vernon O. Mayes of 3267 New Jersey Ave., Lemon Grove, an agricultural education major on the Davis campus of the University of California, is spending his summer on the poultry ranch of James L. Dyer, of Alpine, San Diego County. Mayes is one of more than a hundred Aggies who are gaining valuable experience during summer vacation by working with outstanding veterinarians and farmers up and down the West Coast. As part of his on-the-farm training course, which was arranged by the Farm Practice department at Davis, Mayes is shown checking chicks in a brooder.

Minister Named To Clergy Corps

Forty-six San Diego County clergymen today are members of the newly formed San Diego County Civil Defense Clergy Corps. The Corps was formed on recommendation of the clergy themselves following a three-day course at San Diego State College last week.

Rev. James A. King, Foothills Methodist Church, Spring Valley, was among those receiving certificates of completion. During the course the clergymen heard about the conflict between the free world and Communism, modern weapons and defense against them, church uses in disaster, clergy disaster services, inter-faith ministrations, etc.

The ministers spent many hours discussing the formation of a Civil Defense Clergy Corps and recommended formation of an Advisory Committee composed of a representative of each organized religious group. They also recommended that an Executive Committee of nine be established. The clergyman elected by the Executive Committee as Chief of Clergy Services upon proper appointment would serve for one year as a member of the County Disaster Council.

The ministers recommended that regular meetings of the Advisory Committee be held and that regular CD Religious Affairs training be offered periodically by the civil defense office.

To remove lime deposits from aluminum, iron, or steel kettles, pour ice water in suddenly when the kettle is hot.

Christian Science

How mankind today can set about fulfilling the divine demand for perfection will be explained at Christian Science services on Sunday.

Keynoting the sermon entitled "Man" is the Golden Text from Matthew (5:48), "Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect."

These comforting words of encouragement spoken by James will be included in the scriptural selections (1:24). "My brethren, count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations; Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience. But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing."

"The divine demand, 'Be ye therefore perfect,' is scientific, and the human footsteps leading to perfection are indispensable," declares Mary Baker Eddy in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." She adds, "God requires perfection, not until the battle between spirit and flesh is fought and he victory won" (pp. 253, 254).

Vista La Mesa Christian Church

Vista La Mesa Christian Church is preparing to welcome its new pastor, Richard G. Davis and his family who are at this time en route from Sharnsburg, Kentucky. Mr. Davis has served the Sharnsburg Christian Church for the past five years while attending College of the Bible at Lexington, Kentucky from which he was graduated this year. Bowling Green State College also claims him as an alumnus and Ohio as his native son. Mr. Davis' distinguished record includes many references to music, hours, and awards to churches where he has served such as Sharnsburg Christian and also Bowling Green where he served as choir director.

Mrs. Davis, Barbara, also serves through the ministry of music, and has been active in Christian education for the younger set, particularly kindergarten and slightly older. She also takes active part in women's organizations. The Davis children, Dannie, Dennis, Melanie, and Dawn, range in age from nine to three.

Mr. Davis' first sermon on Sept. 4 is titled "Labor in the Lord," an admonition which he follows himself with the net result that he enjoys a reputation as a hard worker. Perhaps his farm background in Ohio gave him unusually good preparation for his vocation.

Three Zone Requests Get Three Types of Decision

(CNS) Three request for zone changes in the Lemon Grove area drew as varied results as they could at last week's session of the County Planning Commission.

One request was denied; one the third was delayed until October.

Peter De Graaf, former mayor of Chula Vista, was the one on whose application no final action was taken, although the planning committee that visited his land recommended that his request for commercial zoning be denied. The land is now zoned for duplexes.

De Graaf asked for commercial zoning for 15 acres on the east side of Sweetwater road, south of Blossom lane, opposite Mr. Miguel high school. He said he has plans for a shopping center of small businesses and the commission gave him until October to come back with more information on his prospects for developing the land.

The request granted was that of a group headed by Joe Binswinger, asking for commercial zoning for two and a half acres on each side of Harris street, south of North avenue. The existing zoning is for apartments, and the change will be recommended to Supervisors on the basis that adjacent property is zoned for business.

New Tryouts Planned For SV Fiesta

Tryouts for the Spring Valley Days Fiesta talent show to be held Oct. 8, were held Monday night in the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce hall.

Twenty-one youngsters performed. Mrs. Rosalie Graham, general chairman for the Fiesta, said that considering Monday night's tryouts had mostly youngsters, another tryout night has been tentatively set for September 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce hall. At that time only adult ages 18 years and up will be featured. Any adult or groups with talent are asked to participate in the tryouts. For full information call either Mrs. Graham at HO 9-5067, or Mrs. Jean Eskridge at HO 6-7319.

More contestants are needed for the "Miss Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce" contest, says Dr. Hayes Trent D.C., chairman of the contest. Girls 16 through 19 years of age, unmarried, are eligible. The winner will be named Miss Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce for 1960. She will receive a silver tea set and $25 in clothes from Lowe's Toggery of Lemon Grove. The contest is based on the number of tickets sold and purchasers of the tickets are eligible to win a silver tea set. For full information call Dr. Trent at HO 6-6111. Dr. Trent urges all girls to get into the contest as soon as possible.

Bill Zabel, chairman of the Spring Valley Days parade, said Monday night that there are over 200 business and professional persons in Spring Valley, and that if they wish to sponsor a float or unit in the parade, set for October 8 at 10:30 a.m. they should let their want be known as soon as possible. Cost for sponsoring is $10, with the money being used for an entrant silver trophy. For full information call Bill Zabel at HO 9-9946.

SVFD Has Busy Week

Two ambulance runs and four fire calls highlighted the activities of the Spring Valley Fire Department the past week.

Mrs. Evelyn Crow, 10310 Del Rio rd., was transported to Grossmont Hospital August 25. Linda Yost, 4010 Merritt dr., La Mesa, fell from a horse August 26 in front of 8744 Valencia dr., Spring Valley. She suffered a chipped spine, a wrenched knee, and multiple bruises. She was taken to Navy Hospital.

About three acres of dry grass and brush were burned near 3700 Avocado blvd. August 23. The report stated the fire was started by a discarded match, which had lit a cigarette.

County Tax Rate Set

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—A county tax rate of $2.07 per $100 of assessed valuation was voted Tuesday by the County Board of Supervisors. The rate is unchanged from last year and is the same as predicted weeks ago.

The Supervisors also set a rate of 8 cents per $100 of valuation as the tax rate to support the county library system. This is a drop of a cent from last year's rate of 9 cents. In addition to county areas, the library rate applies within the following cities: Del Mar, El Cajon, Imperial Beach and La Mesa.

Board members, at their Tuesday session, set the tax rates for school districts, fire districts, hospitals, and other special districts. The rates in the districts were pretty well known by local residents, due to announcements previously of the districts of their requirements.

However, in 59 school districts trustees had set budgets requiring the raising of more funds than was possible under the maximum tax rate established by the education code.

LGFD Has Slow Week

Business was slow at the Lemon Grove Fire Department this week. Only two calls were answered by the fire crews.

The Robert Ruhl residence, 2088 El Prado, had a fire start in a piece of furniture. It was apparently caused by a cigarette. Damage amounted to approximately $400 on structure and contents.

An automobile belonging to James W. Parker, caught fire in the 2900 block of Imperial yesterday. Cause of the fire was reported to be a leaking fuel line. Damage amounted to approximately $50.

Also on August 23, at Vista and Lamar st., a small grass fire was started apparently by two boys throwing a cigarette or cigarettes into the grass. The two were apprehended by Assistant Fire Chief L. D. Lawton and turned over to the Sheriff's Dept. Sheriff's deputies are investigating.

A third fire on August 23 was at the home of Mrs. L. E. Bates, 3542 James Circle. An overstuffed chair was burned due to a lighted cigarette. There was also smoke damage to the house, the report stated. Two and one half acres were burned at 1249 Sweetwater ave. on August 29. The fire was apparently started by boys playing with matches, the report stated.
